GLADIOLI BULBS

Last year we made tests of bulbs from many different growers in all parts of the world. At last we've selected one particular grower in Holland who grows a medium size, very high crowned bulb that produces the finest Gladioli blooms we have ever seen. We obtained these bulbs at a very good price and we are passing on our savings to you.

We also found that, although bulbs smaller than this size generally bloomed, they did not produce flowers of good quality. Such small bulbs are sold by flower growers at exceedingly low prices since they have almost no value in the floral market. Such bulbs can be purchased from any number of dealers quite inexpensively, but do not be misled by the description of these tiny bulbs. They are apt to be advertised as 2 to 3 inches in circumference. Remember that a dime is almost 2 inches in circumference. Such bulbs may actually be little larger than a good sized green pea.

Our bulbs will be bigger than a 25c piece and we unconditionally guarantee that they will produce blooms as fine as any you have ever seen. If they fail to do this, we will be pleased to refund double your money.

We have the following varieties packed in bags of 20:
